PREFACE.

To the Merchants and Traders of the City of London.

Gentlemen,

ALthough the publiſhing of the enſuing Pamphlet (or Catalogue) may at the firſt view, ſeem to ſeveral perſons a ridiculous and prepoſterous attempt, yet the Author of this poor Collection humbly hopes, that it will not be exploded or rejected by you, for whoſe eaſe and conveniency (together with your forein correſpondents) he principally intended it: And if it prove ſo ſucceſsful, as to receive a favourable acceptance from your hands, the cenſure of all other perſons not concerned in the conveniency arising by it, will not discourage the Author to proceed and make such Improvements of this small Embrio, as may soon bring it to a perfect birth. He humbly hopes no Apology will be required for such Errata's or Escapes as have been committed as to the Orthography, or true writing of the respective Names of this Catalogue, as well for that he hath found it a very difficult thing, to procure so ample an Account of Names as he hath done; as also in regard his main design is, to publish this forthwith, to the end that if those persons that are concerned in the Use of it, do give it a favourable Receptance, he may set forth an Additional Catalogue far more correct and accurate; wherein if he may receive Encouragement accordingly, he shall not in any thing be better satisfied than that his poor Endeavonrs shall have answered those Ends for which they were intended. WHereas, since the ensuing Tract was in the Press, the Author hath discovered the Habitations of several other Merchants, not comprehended in the Alphabetical Order; he hath therefore thought fit (rather than to omit them) to insert them in the last Page of this Book by themselves. And whereas the Author intends shortly to Reprint this Catalogue, with Additions; he doth therefore desire, that for the better furtherance of the next Edition, all Merchants, as well such as shall be newly arrived from beyond the Seas, as also all such as shall be newly set up, would be pleased to give in their Names and Habitations tions to Samuel Lee Stationer, over againſt the Church, near Popes-head Alley in Lombard Street. And if it happen that any Omiſſion ſhall be made of any Merchants Names in this or the enſuing Edition, let the Parties concerned repair to the ſaid Mr. Lee, where they may probably receive ſatisfaction. And if any Bill of Exchange happen to be drawn upon any Tradeſmen or Shopkeepers under the denomination of Merchants, if they repair to the place aforeſaid they may receive due Information.
